

Make Highland Fuels your retail partner

highlandfuels.co.uk

Give your community a brand they can trust

The Highland Fuels brand is a favourite with independent filling stations across Scotland, especially those seeking a quality, recognisable brand combined with a local feel.

When we surveyed over 1,000 of our customers in 2021, the three words most likely to be selected to describe Highland Fuels were:

Friendly

87%

Professional

80%

Reliable

76%

By joining our retail network, you can enjoy that trust from your local community - and delight your passing trade.

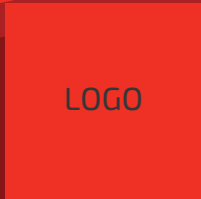

Benefit from our first-hand retail experience

We own and operate our own network of filling stations across Scotland, so we understand first-hand the challenges faced by independent retailers.

It's this level of experience, developed since Highland Fuels was founded in 1957, that allows us to enjoy long-term relationships with our existing retail customers.

Our retail service has been designed to support you in delivering the best value for your business and your customers. You'll benefit from the personal touch provided by our team, who are on hand to help you grow your business. What's more, by partnering with Highland Fuels, you'll be joining a supportive chain of retailers across Scotland.
